This term sheet summarises certain details of the Notes described herein and contains indicative terms only which are subject to completion and amendment. This term sheet does not represent an offer to sell, purchase or subscribe to any investment nor a solicitation of such an offer. Any offers of the Notes described in this term sheet will be made on the basis of the information contained in the Offering Documentation (as specified below) and any such offers will be subject to terms and conditions and restrictions set out in the Offering Documentation. This term sheet is for discussion purposes only.

This termsheet has been prepared by HSBC for professional clients and eligible counterparties acting for their own account or in a distributor capacity. If a distributor provides this termsheet to their client, the distributor does so at its sole discretion and on the basis that it is appropriate for the client's needs and complies with all applicable laws, rules and regulations of the jurisdictions where it has been provided. Such client of the distributor will not be a client of the Issuer or the Dealer in respect of any purchase or sale of the Notes and only the distributor will be responsible for determining the suitability of the Notes for such client.

The Notes have not been and will not be registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, (as amended the "Securities Act") or the state securities laws of any state of the United States. The Notes may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act) at any time (whether as part of their distribution or otherwise).

This term sheet and the Notes referred to herein are not intended for distribution to, or use by, any person or entity in the United States or in any other jurisdiction or country where such distribution would be contrary to law or regulation including (but not limited to) the restrictions of the Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (as amended, the "EU Prospectus Regulation") and Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 as it forms part of United Kingdom ("UK") domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 (the "EUWA"), as amended (the "UK Prospectus Regulation"). Potential investors into whose possession this term sheet comes are required to inform themselves about and to observe the restrictions which are set out in the Offering Documentation. Any offers made in violation of these restrictions will be unlawful.

Unless this document indicates that the Notes described herein (i) are to be admitted to trading on a market that is a regulated market for the purposes of Directive 2014/65/EU (as amended, "MiFID II") or (ii) are to be offered to the public in a Member State (other than pursuant to one or more of the exemptions set out in Article 1.4 of the EU Prospectus Regulation as amended), the Issuer is not required to publish a prospectus in accordance with the EU Prospectus Regulation and the Issuer may elect not to publish a prospectus which complies with the EU Prospectus Regulation.

Unless this document indicates that the Notes described herein (i) are to be admitted to trading on a market that is a regulated market for the purposes of Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the EUWA, as amended ("UK MiFIR") or (ii) are to be offered to the public in the UK (other than pursuant to one or more of the exemptions set out in section 86 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000, as amended (the "FSMA")), the Issuer is not required to publish a prospectus in accordance with section 85 of the FSMA and the Issuer may elect not to publish a prospectus which complies with the FSMA.

Distributors will be required to provide to retail investors in the European Economic Area ("EEA") and the UK a key information document as required by (A) in the case of the EEA, Regulation (EU) 1286/2014 (as amended), or (B) in the case of the UK, Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA (as amended). Such key information document will also be made available at the following web location, https://www.evolve.hsbc/priips, and distributors will be required to provide retail investors in the EEA and the UK with a unique identifier to locate the key information document on such website. For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of:

(i) a retail client as defined in (A) in the case of the EEA, point (11) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II, or (B) in the case of the UK, point (8) of Article 2 of Regulation (EU) No 2017/565 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA; or

(ii) a customer within the meaning of (A) in the case of the EEA, Directive (EU) 2016/97 (as amended), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II, or (B) the provisions of the FSMA and any rules or regulations made under the FSMA to implement Directive (EU) 2016/97, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client, as defined in point (8) of Article 2(1) of Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA.

The Notes are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to investors that qualify as private (retail) clients according to Article 4 para. 2 Swiss Financial Services Act ("FinSA") and its implementing ordinance, i.e. the Swiss Federal Financial Services Ordinance ("FinSO"). Consequently no key information document (or equivalent document) required by FinSA has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to any private (retail) client in, into or from Switzerland may be unlawful under FinSA.

The Notes are not principal protected and an investor may lose all of their original investment.

Capitalised terms not defined in this document will have the meaning as given to them in the Offering Documentation.

KEY TERMS OF THE NOTES

Form of the Security	Index Linked Notes
Product Description	The aim is for you to receive from HSBC the relevant Redemption Amount on the Maturity Date or on any earlier date on which the product terminates. In exchange for the potential to receive the Redemption Amount, you accept the risk of loss of some or all of your investment. The amount you will receive depends directly on the performance of the Underlying. However, you are not purchasing any right in the Underlying, nor in any asset forming part of the Underlying. Early Redemption - Autocall: The product will terminate early if, on any Early Valuation Date, the Closing Level of the Underlying is at or above the Autocall Barrier multiplied by its Average Fixing. If this occurs, you will receive the relevant Early Redemption Amount on the corresponding Early Redemption Date. Payment on the Maturity Date: If the product has not terminated early, depending on the Final Level of the Underlying and whether a Barrier Event (as described below) has occurred, you will receive one of the following possible payments on the Maturity Date: ♦ If the Final Level of the Underlying is at or above 60.00% of its Average Fixing, you will receive 306.00% of the Denomination. ♦ If the Final Level of the Underlying is below 60.00% of its Average Fixing, you will receive: • 100.00% of the Denomination if a Barrier Event has not occurred. • Otherwise, an amount equal to the Denomination multiplied by the value obtained by dividing the Final Level of the Underlying by its Strike Level. In such circumstances, the amount you receive back (if any) may be significantly less than the amount you invested and you could lose your entire investment.
Issuer	HSBC Continental Europe Legal Entity Identifier (LEI): F0HUI1NY1AZMJMD8LP67
Dealer	HSBC Continental Europe
Applicable Law / Jurisdiction	French Law / The Commercial Courts of Paris

Status	Senior, unsecured
Ratings	The long term senior debt ratings of the Issuer are: Aa3 (Moody's) / A+ (S&P) / AA- (Fitch) The Notes will not carry an explicit rating.
Offering Documentation	The most recent version of the offering memorandum for the Issuer's Programme for the Issuance of Notes and Warrants, any supplements thereto (the "Offering Memorandum") and the pricing supplement relating to the Notes. Investors may obtain copies of the Offering Documentation and any supplements thereto free of charge on request from the Issuer's registered office and, where applicable, from the Issuer's website at: www.about.hsbc.fr/investor-relations/debt-issuance. Investors should note that the Offering Memorandum does not comprise (i) a base prospectus for the purposes of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the European Union Withdrawal Act 2018, as amended (the "EUWA") (the "UK Prospectus Regulation") or (ii) a base prospectus for the purposes of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (as amended, the "EU Prospectus Regulation"). The Offering Memorandum has been prepared solely with regard to Notes that are not to be admitted to listing or trading on any regulated market for the purposes of Directive 2014/65/EU (as amended, "MiFID II") or Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the EUWA ("UK MiFIR") and not to be offered to the public in the UK (other than pursuant to one or more of the exemptions set out in Section 86 of the FSMA) or a Member State of the EEA (other than pursuant to one or more of the exemptions set out in Article 1(4) of the EU Prospectus Regulation). Prospective investors should not subscribe for any Notes except on the basis of information contained in the Offering Documentation.

Final Redemption Amount

In respect of each Note, an amount calculated by the Calculation Agent in its sole and absolute discretion in accordance with the following provisions and formula:

If no Early Redemption event has occurred before the Final Valuation Date:

- If Perf$_{final}$ ≥ 60.00%:

  A cash amount equal to Denomination × 306.00%
- If Perf$_{final}$ < 60.00%:
  - If a Barrier Event has not occurred:

    A cash amount equal to Denomination × 100%

– If a Barrier Event has occurred:

A cash amount equal to Denomination × $\frac{Perf_{final}}{Strike}$

Strike	100.00%	Strike Level	Strike × $S_{average}$

S_j	In respect of an Underlying, the Closing Level of such Underlying on the relevant Early Valuation $Date_j$.
$Perf_j$	$\frac{S_j}{S_{average}}$
Average Fixing ($S_{average}$)	In respect of an Underlying, the arithmetic mean (average) of the Closing Level of such Underlying over the Averaging Period.
Averaging Period	05/12/2025 12/12/2025 19/12/2025 29/12/2025 02/01/2026
Final Level (S_{final})	In respect of an Underlying, the Closing Level of such Underlying on the Final Valuation Date.
$Perf_{final}$	$\frac{S_{final}}{S_{average}}$
Barrier Level	50.00% × $S_{average}$
Barrier Event	A Barrier Event will occur if the Closing Level of the Underlying is below the Barrier Level on the Final Valuation Date.
Closing Level	(i) In respect of an Underlying which is a Share, the price of such Underlying as determined by the Calculation Agent as of the Scheduled Closing Time on the relevant Exchange on the relevant Valuation Date; and (ii) in respect of an Underlying which is an Index, the level of such Underlying as determined by the Calculation Agent as of the Scheduled Closing Time on the relevant Exchange on the relevant Valuation Date, or with respect to a Multiple Exchange Index, the official closing level of the Underlying on the relevant Valuation Date as calculated and published by the Index Sponsor.
Scheduled Closing Time	In respect of an Exchange or Related Exchange and a Scheduled Trading Day, the scheduled weekday closing time of such Exchange or Related Exchange on such Scheduled Trading Day.
Scheduled Trading Day	(i) In respect of an Underlying which is a Share or Index (other than a Multiple Exchange Index), any day on which the relevant Exchange and the relevant Related Exchange are scheduled to be open for trading for their respective regular trading sessions; notwithstanding any such Exchange or Related Exchange closing prior to its Scheduled Closing Time; and (ii) in respect of an Underlying which is a Multiple Exchange Index, any day on which the Index Sponsor is scheduled to publish the level of such Underlying and the Related Exchange is scheduled to be open for trading for its regular trading session.

Fee Disclosure	Except in respect of Notes that are offered and sold on the basis of investment advice provided by a firm (within the meaning of the FCA Conduct of Business Sourcebook (COBS)) to retail clients (within the meaning of the COBS) who are in the UK or who are resident of the UK, the distributor may receive from the Issuer the following distribution fees (retrocession or discount): Up to 1.00% p.a., Fee included in the issue price. Such amounts received by the distributor may be in addition to the brokerage cost/fee normally applied by the distributor. The purchaser acknowledges that such distribution fee may be retained by the distributor and that more information may be obtained from the relevant distributor. The Issuer of this product may have remunerated itself to manage the risk incurred and for the service provided.
Notification	If the Calculation Agent has determined that an Extraordinary Event, Potential Adjustment Event, Index Cancellation, Index Modification, Correction of Index Level or Additional Disruption Event (as applicable) has occurred which results in any adjustment to the terms of the Notes and/or the calculation of an Early Redemption Amount or the Final Redemption Amount, the Issuer will notify the Noteholders accordingly in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Notes.
Applicable Exemption from the prospectus requirement under FinSA	Not applicable. The offer is made exclusively to investors outside of Switzerland.
Applicable Exemption from the EU Prospectus Regulation and the UK Prospectus Regulation	With respect to investors within any Member State of the EEA or the UK, the offer is addressed to investors who will acquire Notes for a consideration of at least EUR 100,000 (or equivalent amount in another currency) per investor for each separate offer; otherwise, not applicable.
Prohibition of Sales to EEA and UK Retail Investors	Not applicable
Representative of the Masse	DIIS Group
40-day Distribution Compliance Period	Not applicable
Secondary market	The Issuer and the Dealer may, but shall not be required to, make a market for the Notes. Any bid or offer price for the Notes shall be determined by the Issuer or the Dealer (as the case may be) in its sole and absolute discretion. The Issuer or the Dealer (as the case may be) will only provide offer prices for the Notes for a limited period from the Trade Date. There is no assurance as to the development or liquidity of any trading market for the Notes. See "Risk Factors" below and in the Offering Documentation for further details. UNDER NORMAL MARKET CONDITIONS, the Issuer and/or the Dealer may provide on Reuters HSSP and on Bloomberg an indicative bid/offer price with a spread of 1.00% during a limited period following the Trade Date and, thereafter, an indicative bid price: Reuters RIC: ISIN = HSBP Bloomberg: ISIN Corp Go SIX Telekurs DIRTY PRICE During the limited period following the Trade Date in which the Issuer or Dealer (as the case may be) may provide bid/offer prices, bid and offer prices may possibly differ to a greater or lesser extent (spread). The recommended holding period is until the redemption date. If a Noteholder wants to sell its Note(s) back to the Issuer prior to maturity, the secondary market price may be negatively impacted by a number of unpredictable factors which may offset or magnify each other, including, without limitation: - A decrease of any Underlying(s) value - An increase of the expected dividend yield of any Underlying(s) - A change in the expected volatility of the Underlying(s) - A reduced liquidity of the Underlying(s) in the market - Economic, financial, political or regulatory events or judicial decisions that affect the Issuer, the Underlying(s) or the financial markets generally - A greater funding cost incurred by the Issuer, generally associated with, but not limited to, a deterioration of the Issuer's creditworthiness or a rise of interest rates in the product currency As a consequence, depending on market conditions and issuer solvency, the Noteholder may incur a substantial or total loss of their initial investment. The risk would be higher in case the Note includes leverage. See "Risk Factors" below and in the Offering Documentation for further details.
Tax treatment	Refer to the Offering Documentation for guidance on tax treatment of the Notes. Transactions involving the Notes may have tax consequences for potential purchasers which may depend, amongst other things, upon the status of the potential purchaser and laws relating to transfer and registration taxes. Potential purchasers who are in any doubt about the tax position of any aspect of transactions involving the Notes should consult their own tax advisers.
Taxation Gross-Up	Condition 8A (Taxation – Gross up) is applicable
Additional U.S. federal income tax considerations	The Notes are not Section 871(m) Notes for the purpose of Section 871(m).

INDEX DISCLAIMER(S)

Solactive SCOR SE EOD AR 1.8 Index: Solactive AG ("Solactive") is the administrator and calculation agent of Solactive SCOR SE EOD AR 1.8 Index (the "Index"). The financial instruments that are based on the Index are not sponsored, endorsed, promoted or sold by Solactive in any way and Solactive makes no express or implied representation, guarantee or assurance with regard to: (a) the advisability in investing in the financial instruments; (b) the quality, accuracy and/or completeness of the Index; and/or (c) the results obtained or to be obtained by any person or entity from the use of the Index. RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Notes is suitable only for investors who are capable of understanding, evaluating and taking risks associated with complex products involving derivatives. As such, potential investors should consider carefully whether the Notes are suitable for them in the light of their particular circumstances and financial position and should consult their own legal, tax, accountancy, financial and other professional advisers to assist in determining the suitability of the Notes for them. The following are certain risks in relation to the Notes but do not purport to be a full or complete description of the risks in relation to the Notes. These risk factors should be read in conjunction with the risk factors set out in the Offering Documentation.

Neither the Issuer nor any affiliate offers any advice as to the suitability of the Notes for any investor unless it has agreed to do so in writing.

Reference Asset(s): In the following risk factors, "Reference Asset(s)" means the Index/Indices, Share(s) and/or ETF(s), as applicable, to which the Notes are linked.

Risks if an Index includes a "decrement" feature: The value of and return on the Notes or Warrants may be linked to an Index which is a "total return index" with a "decrement" or a "fixed dividend" feature. In such a case, all dividends paid by the constituent shares in the Index are re-invested in the Index, which then makes a fractional point deduction to the relevant Index on a daily basis, equivalent to the removal of an annual fixed dividend of a pre-defined amount (a "Synthetic Dividend"). The Synthetic Dividend may either be defined as a percentage of the relevant Index level or as a fixed number of index points. A number of factors may adversely affect the value of and return on Notes or Warrants linked to a "decrement" index. An index with a "decrement" feature typically: (i) may underperform an equivalent "total return index" with the same underlying components as the latter may not reflect the deduction of a Synthetic Dividend; (ii) may underperform a "price return index" with the same components if the aggregate dividends paid by the underlying components is less than the Synthetic Dividend; (iii) where the Synthetic Dividend is a fixed number of index points (rather than a percentage of the relevant Index), the Synthetic Dividend yield (i.e. the ratio of the fixed index point decrement to the decrement index level) may increase in a falling market as the Synthetic Dividend is a fixed amount. In that case, the fixed deduction may have a greater negative impact on the relevant Index level than if the Synthetic Dividend were a percentage of such Index level. In a steeply falling market, the Index level could become negative depending on the applicable index methodology.

Risks relating to the Issuer: A description of the risk factors relating to the Issuer that may affect its ability to fulfil its obligations under the Notes is set out in the section entitled "Risk Factors" in the Issuer's most recently published Universal Registration Document (which must be read with any subsequently published supplements to the Offering Memorandum) all of which are available free of charge on request from the Issuer's registered office and from the Issuer's website (www.hsbc.com/investors/results-and-announcements/all-reporting/subsidiaries).

Issuer credit risk: The Notes are direct, unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer. If the Issuer experiences a deterioration in its financial position, becomes insolvent or is otherwise unable to pay amounts owed to investors under the Notes, investors may not receive any payments under the Notes and may lose some or, in the worst case scenario, all of their invested amounts. Investors will not have any recourse to the Reference Asset(s) or any other security or collateral. Unlike a savings account or similar investment, an investment in the Notes is not covered by any deposit guarantee or compensation scheme (such as the French Fonds de Garantie des Dépôts et de Résolution).

No ownership rights: An investment in the Notes is not the same as an investment in the Reference Asset(s). The Notes do not confer any legal or beneficial interest or any voting or dividend rights in any Reference Asset(s) or any asset other than the Notes.

Certain factors affecting the value of the Notes: The value of Notes prior to maturity may be affected by a number of factors including, without limitation: (i) the financial condition and funding costs of the Issuer; (ii) the value, volatility and liquidity of the Reference Asset(s) (if any); (iii) the time remaining to maturity; (iv) any change(s) in interest rates, dividend yields and inflation rates; (v) any change(s) in currency exchange rates; (vi) economic and market conditions; and (vii) any related transaction the Issuer may have entered into in respect of the Notes. As a result of these factors the price at which a Noteholder will be able to sell Notes prior to maturity may be less than the initial amount invested. Each of these factors interrelate in complex ways (for example, one factor may offset an increase in the value of the Notes caused by another).

The offer price of the Notes may not reflect the market implied credit risk of the Issuer: The offer price of the Notes has been determined based on various factors including the Issuer's appetite for funding at the relevant time which may not reflect the market implied credit risk of the Issuer. In highly volatile market conditions, the credit spreads of the Issuer may be substantially higher than usual. In such a case, taking into account the Issuer's credit spreads, the offer price of the Notes may be substantially higher than (i) the Issuer's internal valuation and market implied value of the Notes as at the Trade Date and (ii) the price of the Notes in the secondary market (if any). As a result, (a) the price at which a Noteholder purchases the Notes may be substantially higher than the market implied value of the Notes, and (b) the price at which a Noteholder may be able to sell the Notes in the secondary market (if any) may be substantially less than the amount invested in the Notes.

Potential conflicts of Interest: The Issuer and/or its affiliates may engage in business related to the Reference Asset(s) or the issuers thereof, either on their proprietary account as part of their hedging activities in relation to the Notes, or for the accounts of their clients and may publish research or possess non-public information relating to the Reference Asset(s).The activity described in the preceding sentences may have an effect on the value of the Reference Asset(s) and cause certain events to be triggered under the terms of the Notes, which could potentially have a negative impact on the value of the Notes. The Issuer or one of its affiliates may also be the Calculation Agent in relation to the Notes responsible for, among other things, determining amounts payable to Noteholders, adjustments made to the terms of the Notes and whether Notes should be redeemed early. Accordingly, there is a risk that certain conflicts of interest may arise both among the Issuer or these affiliates and between the interests of the Issuer or these affiliates and the interests of Noteholders.

There may be no active trading market or secondary market for liquidity for Notes: The Notes may not be widely distributed and there may not be an active trading market in the Notes, nor is there assurance as to the development of an active trading market. If there is no liquid market, investors may not be able to realise their investment in the Notes until redemption of such Notes or may not realise a return that equals or exceeds the purchase price of their Notes.

Event of Default, Illegality or changes in tax law may cause the Notes to be redeemed early: If the Calculation Agent determines that the performance of the Issuer's obligations under any Notes has become unlawful or impracticable, or if the Issuer determines that it would be required to gross-up payments to investors following a legally required withholding or deduction in respect of French taxes, duties or other charges, the Issuer may redeem the Notes early. An Event of Default (as defined in the Conditions) may also result in the Notes being redeemed early. In such cases, the Notes will be redeemed at their fair market value less the cost to the Issuer and/or any affiliates of unwinding any relevant hedging and/or funding arrangements (such amount may vary considerably due to market conditions and could be significantly less than the amount invested in the Notes) and in such cases no further amounts will be payable in respect of the Notes.

Calculation Agent's discretion and valuations: Calculation of payments under the Notes may be made by reference to certain specified screen rate(s), level(s) or value(s) published on an exchange or other quotation system, or if any such rate(s), level(s) or value(s) is not displayed at the relevant time, rate(s), level(s) or value(s) (as applicable) determined by the Calculation Agent acting in good faith, or otherwise, exercising its discretion in accordance with and pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Notes. The Calculation Agent may also have other discretionary powers (including without limitation, powers to (i) adjust terms and conditions of Notes; (ii) in certain circumstances, substitute the Reference Asset(s); (iii) postpone payment; (iv) redeem the Notes prior to their scheduled maturity; or (v) apply any combination of the foregoing).

Taxation: Transactions involving Notes may have tax consequences for potential purchasers depending on, amongst other things, the status of the purchaser and applicable transfer and registration taxes. Stamp duty, stamp duty reserve tax and/or similar transfer taxes may be payable on any actual or deemed transfer of Notes. All payments and deliveries under the Notes will be subject to the laws and regulations in the place of payment or delivery and Noteholders may be responsible for paying, or suffer a deduction for, all duties, taxes or other charges imposed by such laws and regulations, subject only to the Issuer's obligation to gross-up in relation to certain United Kingdom taxes under Condition 8A (Taxation - Gross-up). Such gross-up obligation is applicable and is subject to a number of exceptions and covers only certain withholdings and deductions on account of United Kingdom taxes; in particular, it does not cover stamp duty, stamp duty reserve tax and/or similar transfer taxes. Potential purchasers should consult and rely on their own tax advisers in respect of any purchase of Notes.

Fees, commission and cost of hedging: The issue price of the Notes may include the distribution commissions or fees charged by the Issuer and/or its affiliates (if any) and the cost or expected costs of hedging the Issuer's obligations under the Notes (if any). Accordingly, there is a risk that, upon issue the price, if any, of Notes in any secondary market (including the price (if any) at which the Issuer or its affiliates would be willing to purchase the Notes from the investor) would be lower than the original issue price of the Notes. Also, fees, commission and hedging costs may be deducted from any redemption amounts.

Exchange rate risks: The Issuer will generally pay amounts under the Notes in the Settlement Currency. If an investor expects to convert such amounts into a currency of its choice (the "Investor's Currency"), the investor is subject to movements in the conversion rate which may significantly decrease the effective value of any amounts received when converted into the Investor's Currency.

The Notes are not principal protected: The repayment of any amount invested in Notes is not guaranteed. As a result the investors' capital can fall below the amount initially invested (and, in the worst case, the investors may lose their entire invested amount).

Reinvestment risk: In case of early redemption of the Notes for any reason, investors will be subject to the risk that they may not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds in a product with a similar risk/return profile.

The Issuer is permitted to withhold payments in the event of an illegality relating to payment: Investors in the Notes should be aware that the Issuer may withhold or refuse payment of principal or physical settlement or (if applicable) interest on the Notes if the Issuer determines, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, there is a material risk of such payment or delivery (as applicable) being contrary to any fiscal or other law or regulation or the order of any court of competent jurisdiction, or any statement, guidance, policy, recommendation or interpretation of any governmental or regulatory body (whether or not having the force of law), and, in such circumstances, any such withholding or refusal of payment or delivery (as applicable) will not give rise to a default for any purposes. So long as such circumstances are continuing, investors in the Notes may not receive such payments and will not be entitled to any additional interest as a result of such withholding or refusal.

No investigation has been made of the financial condition or creditworthiness of any issuer of any Reference Asset(s): Investors in the Notes should obtain and evaluate the same information concerning the Reference Asset(s) and each such issuer as they would if they were investing directly in the Reference Asset(s). In addition, investors should understand that the historical performance of the Reference Asset(s) should not be viewed as predictive of future results.

Risk of Disruptions: The Calculation Agent may determine that a Market Disruption Event has occurred in relation to a Reference Asset. This could be because: a relevant stock exchange closes early without notice; limitations are imposed on trading; trading is suspended; or market participants are prevented from obtaining valuations or effecting transactions in the relevant Reference Asset. If a Market Disruption Event has occurred, this will result in the occurrence of a Disrupted Day in relation to the relevant Reference Asset. The Valuation Date, the due date for any payments or deliveries under the Notes, and/or the maturity date may be postponed as a consequence of the Disrupted Day, which may have an adverse effect on the value of the Notes. Investors should also note that Additional Disruption Events (being Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, Increased Cost of Hedging, Failure to Deliver and Insolvency Filing, as applicable) may occur and that the Issuer may declare an early valuation date and designate an early redemption date for the Notes. If this happens, Noteholders will receive an early redemption amount based on the determinations of the Calculation Agent. Upon any early redemption of the Notes, Noteholders may suffer a loss of some or of all of their investment and will forego any future performance of the relevant Reference Asset(s).

Potential Adjustment Events: Potential Adjustment Event (such as a subdivision, consolidation or reclassification of securities, a distribution of dividend or extraordinary dividend or any certain other events affecting the value of a Reference Asset) may occur. If a Potential Adjustment Event occurs, the Calculation Agent may make corresponding adjustments to the terms of the Notes as it determines appropriate to reflect the Potential Adjustment Event, which may adversely affect the value of the Notes and/or any amount payable. Investors may suffer a loss of some or all of their investment as a result.

Extraordinary Events: Certain Extraordinary Events (such a merger, a takeover or exchange offer (in the case of Reference Asset(s) which are shares), delisting, nationalisation or transfer to a governmental agency, an Extraordinary ETF Event (in the case of Reference Asset(s) that are ETFs) or the insolvency or bankruptcy of the issuer of the Reference Asset(s)) may occur. Following an Extraordinary Event, the Calculation Agent may take action including adjusting or redeeming the Notes. If the Notes are redeemed early, the investors may suffer a loss of some or all of their investment and will not benefit from any future performance of the Reference Asset(s).

Substitution of Securities: If following the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event (other than a Delisting in respect of any Depositary Receipts) or an Additional Disruption Event in relation to an Underlying, the Issuer may (but is not required to) replace the relevant Underlying (the "Affected Security") with a substitute security (the "Substitute Security") (as selected by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the Conditions). If there is a substitution of an Underlying, investors will be exposed to the performance of the Substitute Security in place of the Affected Security. As a result, investors may receive a significantly lower return as compared with what they would have received had such substitution not occurred.

Adjustment to Indices: In certain circumstances, certain adjustments may be made to the index or indices to which the Notes are linked (each a "Reference Index") (including without limitation, replacement of the relevant Reference Index or its modification or cancellation). Any of these events may result in (A) the Notes being redeemed early at such amount as may be determined by the Calculation Agent to be the fair market value of the Notes immediately prior to such redemption or (B) the continuation of the Notes, with the level of the relevant Reference Index being determined by the Calculation Agent. As a result Noteholders may suffer a loss of some or of all of their investment and, if the Notes are early redeemed, will forego any future performance in the relevant Reference Index.

Benchmarks Reform: Indices which are deemed "benchmarks" are the subject of ongoing regulatory guidance and reform, which may cause such benchmarks to perform differently than in the past, to disappear entirely, or have other consequences which cannot be predicted. Any such consequence could have a material adverse effect on any Notes linked to a benchmark.

Regulation (EU) 2016/1011, as amended (the "EU Benchmarks Regulation"), and Regulation (EU No.2016/1011 as it forms part of domestic law of the United Kingdom by virtue of the EUWA (the "UK Benchmarks Regulation") govern the provision, contribution to, and use of benchmarks in the EU and the UK (respectively).

Occurrence of a Benchmark Trigger Event: A "Benchmark Trigger Event" may occur in relation to Notes linked to a "benchmark" in a number of scenarios, including: where there is an event or circumstance which has the effect that the Issuer or the Calculation Agent is not or will not be, permitted under any applicable law or regulation to use a benchmark as (defined in the Conditions) to perform its or their obligations under the Notes.

SELLING RESTRICTIONS

Please refer to the selling restrictions described in detail in the Offering Documentation.

United States of America - Regulation S: The Notes have not been and will not be registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, (as amended the "Securities Act") or the state securities laws of any state of the United States. The Notes may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act) at any time (whether as part of their distribution or otherwise). Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by Regulation S.

European Economic Area and the United Kingdom: Public Offer Selling Restriction

In relation to each Member State of the European Economic Area (the "EEA") and the United Kingdom (the "UK"), an offer of Notes which are the subject of the offering contemplated by this document and the Offering Memorandum as completed by the Pricing Supplement in relation thereto to the public in a Member State of the EEA (an "EEA Member State") or the United Kingdom may not be made except that an offer of such Notes to the public in that EEA Member State or the United Kingdom may be made:

(a) Qualified Investors: at any time to any legal entity which is a qualified investor as defined in (i) in the case of the EEA, the EU Prospectus Regulation or (ii) in the case of the UK, Article 2 of the UK Prospectus Regulation;

(b) Fewer than 150 offerees: at any time to fewer than 150 natural or legal persons (other than qualified investors as defined in (i) in the case of the EEA, the EU Prospectus Regulation or (ii) in the case of the UK, the UK Prospectus Regulation), subject to obtaining the prior consent of the relevant Dealer or Dealers nominated by the Issuer for any such offer; or

(c) Other exempt offers: at any time in any other circumstances falling within (i) in the case of the EEA, Article 1(4) of the EU Prospectus Regulation or (ii) in the case of the UK, at any time in any other circumstances falling within section 86 of the FSMA, provided that no such offer of Notes referred to in (a) to (c) above shall require the Issuer or any Dealer (i) in the case of the EEA, to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the EU Prospectus Regulation or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 23 of the EU Prospectus Regulation or (ii) in the case of the UK, publish a prospectus pursuant to section 85 of the FSMA or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 23 of the UK Prospectus Regulation.

For the purposes of this provision, the expression an "offer of Notes to the public" in relation to any Notes in any EEA Member State or the United Kingdom means the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and the Notes to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe for the Notes, the expression "EU Prospectus Regulation" means Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 and the expression "UK Prospectus Regulation" means Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018.

Belgium: Selling Restrictions Addressing Additional Belgian Securities Laws

The Offering Memorandum has not been submitted for approval to the Belgian Financial Services and Markets Authority. Accordingly, Notes that have a maturity of less than 12 months and qualify as money market instruments (and that therefore fall outside the scope of the EU Prospectus Regulation) may not be distributed in Belgium by way of an offer of securities to the public, as defined in Article 4, 2° of the Belgian law of 11 July 2018 on the offer of investment instruments to the public and the admission of investment instrument to trading on a regulated market. The Notes are not intended to be sold to Belgian Consumers (as defined below). Accordingly, each Dealer has represented and agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent and agree, that it has not offered or sold and will not offer or sell, directly or indirectly, the Notes to Belgian Consumers, and has not distributed or caused to be distributed and will not distribute or cause to be distributed, the Offering Memorandum, the relevant Pricing Supplement or any other offering material relating to the Notes to Belgian Consumers.

For these purposes, a "Belgian Consumer" has the meaning provided by the Belgian Code of Economic Law, as amended from time to time (Wetboek van 28 februari 2013 van economisch recht/Code du 28 février 2013 de droit économique), being any natural person resident or located in Belgium and acting for purposes which are outside his/her trade, business or profession.

Portugal: Prohibition of Sales to Retail Investors in Portugal

An offer of Notes to the public in Portugal can only be made in compliance with the Portuguese Securities Code (Código dos Valores Mobiliários, approved by Decreto-Lei n.º 486/99, de 13 de novembro, as amended – "Portuguese Securities Code") and the applicable laws, regulations and procedures in Portugal and formalities required by Portuguese laws and regulations to permit the offering and sale of Notes in Portugal, including any related documents or marketing materials. For the purposes of this provision, the expression "the public in Portugal" does not include professional investors as defined in Article 30(1) of the Portuguese Securities Code.

The Notes are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in Portugal where the issuance or marketing of such Notes are subject to the supervision of the Portuguese Securities Market Commission (the "CMVM") and to CMVM Regulation 8/2018. Consequently, the requirements of the CMVM Regulation 8/2018 in respect of Packaged Retail Investment Products have not been met and therefore offering or selling the Notes in or into Portugal may not be permitted without complying with the requirements set out in the CMVM Regulation 8/2018 and other applicable laws and regulations in Portugal.

For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of Directive 2014/65/EU (as amended, "MiFID II").

Uruguay: Neither the Notes nor the Issuer are registered with the Superintendency of Financial Services of the Central Bank of Uruguay allowing the Notes to be publicly offered in Uruguay, since the placement qualifies as a private placement under section 2 of Uruguayan law 18.627.

Peru: The contents of the Offering Memorandum and the Notes issued and traded thereunder, have not been reviewed nor authorised by the Capital Markets Superintendence (Superintendencia del Mercado de Valores, the "SMV") nor the Private Pension Funds, Banking and Insurance Superintendence (Superintendencia de Banca, Seguros y AFP, the "SBS"). Therefore, investors will not benefit from protection of any of the aforementioned regulatory authorities.

The Notes have not been and will not be registered with the Capital Markets Public Registry of the SMV nor the Lima Stock Exchange Registry ("RBVL") for their public offering in Peru under the Peruvian Capital Markets Law (Law N°861/ Supreme Decree N°020-2023-EF) and the decrees and regulations thereunder.

Consequently, Notes may not be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, nor the Offering Memorandum, any relevant Pricing Supplement or any other offering material relating to the Notes be distributed or caused to be distributed to the general public in Peru, unless the offering or selling of Notes comply with the Private Offer Exemptions (as defined below).

"Private Offer Exemptions" means an offer of Notes, where no Mass-marketing is used, and made:

(i) exclusively to institutional investors; or

(ii) where the minimum investment amount is greater than or equal to approximately USD 160,000 (either in a single transaction or in aggregate).

"Mass-marketing" means a marketing strategy utilising mass distribution and mass media to offer, negotiate or distribute securities to the whole market. Mass media includes newspapers, magazines, radio, television, mail, meetings, social network, internet servers located in Peru, and other media or technology platforms.

Singapore: Neither this document nor the Offering Memorandum has been registered and will not be registered as a prospectus with the Monetary Authority of Singapore. The Notes may not be offered or sold, nor may the Notes be the subject of an invitation for subscription or purchase, whether directly or indirectly, nor may this document, the Offering Memorandum or any other document or material in connection with the offer or sale, or invitation for subscription or purchase of the Notes be circulated or distributed, whether directly or indirectly, to any person in Singapore other than:

(a) to an institutional investor (as defined in Section 4A of the Securities and Futures Act 2001, as modified or amended from time to time (the "SFA")) pursuant to Section 274 of the SFA,

(b) to a relevant person (as defined in Section 275(2) of the SFA) who is also an Exempt Investor pursuant to Section 275(1) of the SFA, or any Exempt Investor pursuant to Section 275(1A) of the SFA, and in accordance with the conditions specified in Section 275 of the SFA.

An "Exempt Investor" refers to any person mentioned under Regulation 2 of the Securities and Futures (Capital Markets Products) Regulations 2018, under which an issuer is exempt from complying with Section 309B(1) of the SFA in relation to an offer of any capital markets products, if the offer is made to any such person.

Switzerland: The Notes are not subject to the approval of, or supervision by, the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority ("FINMA") and investors in the Notes will not benefit from supervision by FINMA. Notes issued under the Programme do not constitute participations in a collective investment scheme within the meaning of the Swiss Federal Act on Collective Investment Schemes of 23 June 2006 ("CISA"), as amended. Notes issued under the Programme are neither issued nor guaranteed by a Swiss financial intermediary. Investors are exposed to the credit risk of the Issuer.

The Notes may not be publicly offered, directly or indirectly, in Switzerland within the meaning of the Swiss Financial Services Act ("FinSA") and its implementing ordinance, the Swiss Federal Financial Services Ordinance ("FinSO"), and no application has or will be made to admit the Notes to trading on any trading venue (exchange or multilateral trading facility) in Switzerland. Neither the Offering Memorandum nor any other offering or marketing material relating to the Notes constitutes a prospectus pursuant to the FinSA. Consequently, the Offering Memorandum and any other offering or marketing material relating to the Notes may only be publicly distributed or otherwise made publicly available in Switzerland:

a) if such offer is strictly limited to investors that qualify as professional clients ("Professional Clients", as set out below) according to Article 4 para. 3 FinSA and Article 5 para. 1 FinSO. Accordingly, the Notes may only be distributed or offered, and the Offering Memorandum or any other marketing material relating to the Notes may be made available to Professional Clients in Switzerland; in this case, the offering of the Notes in, into or from Switzerland is exempt from the requirement to prepare and publish a prospectus under FinSA;

b) if such offer constitutes an exempt offer pursuant to specific provisions regarding exempt offers pursuant to Article 36 FinSA which (a) is addressed to less than 500 investors, (b) is only addressed to investors that purchase financial instruments in an amount of at least CHF 100,000 (or equivalent in other currencies), (c) has a minimum denomination of CHF 100,000 (or equivalent in other currencies), or (d) does not exceed the value of CHF 8 million (or equivalent in other currencies) calculated over a period of 12 months; in this case, the offering of the Notes in, into or from Switzerland is exempt from the requirement to prepare and publish a prospectus under FinSA.

Professional Clients in terms of the FinSA specifically include:

(a) Swiss regulated financial intermediaries such as banks, securities firms, fund management companies, asset managers of collective assets, portfolio managers, or trustees;

(b) Swiss regulated insurance companies;

(c) foreign clients which are subject to a prudential supervision under the laws of their incorporation of jurisdiction equivalent to that applicable to entities listed under paragraphs (a) and (b) above;

(d) central banks;

(e) public entities with professional treasury operations;

(f) occupational pension schemes and other institutions whose purpose is to serve occupational pensions with professional treasury operations;

(g) companies with professional treasury operations;

(h) large companies; and

(i) private investment structures with professional treasury operations created for high-net-worth private (retail) clients.

In addition, high-net-worth private (retail) clients and private investment structures created for them may declare that they wish to be treated as Professional Clients in accordance with Article 5 FinSA (opting out).

Notwithstanding the fact that such offering may not trigger the requirement to prepare a prospectus under FinSA, in the case of offerings of Notes that constitute debt instruments with a "derivative character" that will be made to private (retail) clients in, into or from Switzerland (as such expressions are understood under FinSA and FinSO), a key information document (KID) prepared in accordance with FinSA and FinSO or in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council of November 26, 2014 on key information documents for packaged retail and insurance-based investment products (PRIIPs) must be made available.
